

SLOVAKIA: One Year after the Murder of Journalist Ján Kuciak

PRESSECLUB
CONCORDIA

February 20, 2019 | 9.30 – 10:15

Presseclub Concordia | Bankgasse 8, 1010 Vienna

The killing of Slovak investigative journalist Ján Kuciak and fiancée Martina Kušnírová on February 21, 2018, sparked the largest protests in Slovakia since the Velvet Revolution. One year later, the crime remains unsolved.

What is the current status of the murder investigation? How has Slovakia changed since the killing? Which direction is press freedom in Slovakia and the Visegrád region headed? And: What is the role of the EU?

Join the International Press Institute (IPI) and Presseclub Concordia for a discussion with:

- BEATA BALOGOVÁ, editor-in-chief of Slovakia's largest quality daily newspaper, SME
- moderated by: SCOTT GRIFFEN, deputy director, IPI

PRESS BRIEFING